

Cell Respiration

PLAY PICMONIC

energy

glucose

For energy production (cell respiration) to occur within the cells, several components are needed. The first is: Glucose energy continued

oxygen

The second component for energy production (cell respiration) to occur with in the cell is: Oxygen

Results

Glucose + Oxygen = Carbon dioxide

Results continued

Glucose + Oxygen = Water (H₂O)