CREATIVE AUDIO

The parents of these students had enough of their shenanigans and sent them off to boring Boarding school. Quote Indian is the teacher here and hung this banner to quote unquote "Ban all fun". Hacky Sacks aren't allowed, so he hits the hack out the window with his knee. These kids can't even go for a walk like normal pedestrians. They just get fat and lay around in equally fat shoes. Pumping them full of Prozac is this school's answer for everything. But crushing their fun only leads to odd behavior; like spinning a plate tutu. The insect pig has little else to do since they took his tridents away. One can't blame broom medic though, as he was left cleaning up the mess and treating their injuries.

Graphics

Welcome to Picmonic! First off, the main topic of this picture is the Boring Boarding School sign so please get creative with how it looks. Our sketch artist likes to use action lines to show motion, so you can either use the same or try to show motion in a different way as well. Remember that I need characters on their own layers because sometimes I have to resize them. Now going down the list, Banal is the "Ban All" Fun banner. Fatuous is the Fat Kid sitting in the large Shoe. Hackneyed is the Hacky Sack which are usually multicolored thread material. Insipid is the Insect Pig on the right so color him half like a fly and half like a pig. A pedestrian sign is outside on the left, and that should be colored all yellow with a black character. Platitude is what the insect pig is holding, it is a white plate with a pink tu tu around it. Prosaic is just a Prosaic pill bottle. Quotidian is the Indian in the back making the Quote gesture with his fingers so please make that apparent. Trite is the pile of tridents in the corner. The guy sleeeping next to the pile of tridents is a Broom Medic character. Have fun and email me with questions!
